

Cirkul is a beverage company that offers an innovative water bottle system designed to let users flavor their water sip by sip. At the core of the system is a reusable bottle and flavor cartridges called “Sips.” Users simply fill the bottle with water, insert a Sip cartridge, and adjust the flavor intensity using a dial on the lid. This allows for a customizable and convenient hydration experience.

With over 100 flavors, Cirkul's lineup includes fruit infusions, iced coffees and teas, energy drinks, and electrolyte-enhanced blends. These flavor cartridges contain zero sugar, zero calories, and no artificial colors or flavors—making them a healthier alternative to sugary beverages.

Founded in 2018 and based in Tampa, Florida, Cirkul quickly gained traction through viral TikTok videos, which helped drive retail partnerships and a growing customer base. As of March 2025, the company has expanded to 1,033 employees and reached a valuation of over $1 billion following a $70 million Series C funding round in June 2022.

Cirkul is committed to sustainability. Each flavor cartridge provides the same taste as six 20oz bottled drinks, resulting in 84% less plastic use compared to traditional single-use bottles. Their bottles are made from 100% BPA-free, shatter-proof plastic, and stainless steel options are also available for better insulation.

The company offers a range of features to enhance the user experience, including an auto-ship plan for discounted, regular cartridge deliveries and a Bundle Builder for personalized product selection. Exclusive products include the 40oz All-Day StrawSip™ Tumbler, which integrates a Sip cartridge into a straw, and the Cirkul Plus system for on-the-go carbonation.

Cirkul regularly releases limited-edition flavors via its FLVR LAB and themed bottles through its Bottle Drops. Popular flavor lines include LifeSip (with B-vitamins), FitSip (electrolytes), GoSip (caffeine), Accel (rehydration-focused), Fission (energy boost), and Squeeze Lemonade.

Customers can shop directly through Cirkul's website or find their products in select retailers like Walmart. To stay updated, users can subscribe to Cirkul's newsletter or follow their social channels. Cirkul also offers eGift cards, customizable bottles, and dedicated customer support for tracking orders or handling issues like damaged products.

Many users report increased water intake, improved hydration during workouts, and satisfaction with the flavor variety and portability. Cirkul's unique approach to hydration blends convenience, health-conscious choices, and sustainability into one stylish, customizable system.
